Welcome to UAL

Organised by UAL and Arts Students' Union, The Big Welcome includes arrival activities, introductions, wayfinding, events, trip, socials, parties, enrolment and course inductions – everything you need to start your student life.

This is part of Making it Happen, a programme designed to make your time as a student the best it can be. You'll hear lots more about it throughout your time here, so look out for ways to get involved.

 'The Big Welcome'

I'm delighted you've chosen to start your creative future at University of the Arts London, which is made up of six world-renowned colleges:

Camberwell College of Arts
Central Saint Martins (CSM)
Chelsea College of Arts
London College of Communication (LCC)
London College of Fashion (LCF)
Wimbledon College of Arts

You've joined a vibrant community of 19,000 students from more than 130 countries. You're also in one of the best cities in the world for art and design, with lots of opportunities to make the most of student life. To help you navigate your time at university in London, and to take advantage of all there is to offer, we've created this handy two-part guide. Read it, make notes in it, do the checklist on the next page and hold on to it for future reference.

I hope you have a fantastic time at UAL and I wish you every success for your future.

Need to know >

What to do in your first few weeks

At UAL

- ☒ Read this guide
An easy one to tick off – read the whole guide to get set up and settled in.
- ☐ Set up your email account
You need to set up your UAL account before you can enrol. Find your username and temporary password in the information pack you have been sent if you're a UK student or in your offer letter for international students. It's essential you keep checking your UAL email account as it's where you'll get important news and updates.
- ☐ Change your temporary password
You can only log in three times with your temporary password before your account is locked, so change it right away by going to pss.arts.ac.uk.
- ☐ Download MyUAL
MyUAL is our free student app with all the essential info you'll need in one place like your UAL email, timetable, events, jobs, news and more. Find it on the App Store or Google Play and log in with your UAL account details.
- ☐ Get your student ID card
You will receive this at your enrolment session. You'll need to present your card to access all UAL buildings and for printing.
- ☐ Go to your enrolment and inductions
You'll have already been sent details of these.

In London

- ☐ Get a TV Licence
You must have a TV Licence to watch or record programmes on any device as they're broadcast, and to download or watch BBC programmes on iPlayer. You can be fined up to £1,000 if you're watching TV without a licence, so make sure you get one by going to tvlicensing.co.uk.
- ☐ Get Council Tax exemption
This is a tax paid to local councils who provide services like fixing roads and running community centres. Students on most full-time courses don't need to pay Council Tax. Contact Student Services for an exemption letter.
 'Council Tax'
- ☐ Register with a doctor
Whenever you move home it's important to register with a doctor as soon as possible so that if you're ill you won't be stuck without medical care.
- ☐ Open a student bank account
You can do this by going into a bank branch of your choice – we'd recommend going to one close to your new home in London. If you're not from the UK you'll need to bring a copy of your visa and a valid passport.
- ☐ Sign up for a Student Oyster card
UAL students are eligible for discounted travel with a Transport for London (TfL) Student Oyster Card. Find out more online by visiting tfl.gov.uk and searching for 'Student Oyster Card'.

Health and safety

We want UAL to be a safe place for all students, staff and visitors, so we take health and safety very seriously. You'll be given detailed safety information during your course induction, like fire and emergency procedures and rules for using machinery in a safe and sensible way.

Smokers – please remember that the university doesn't allow smoking on any of its premises including around the entrances to the colleges. If you wish to smoke you must leave the building and be at least five metres away from any doors or openings. This also applies to e-cigarettes and vapes.

Libraries and Learning Zones

As a UAL student you have access to all six college libraries; just use your ID card to borrow books and other items. You can also search the online catalogue and have books sent to the library that's easiest for you to get to, and return them to any college library.

Our libraries have areas for group and individual study as well as computers, photocopying and printing facilities. You can also borrow a laptop and get help from the library staff to make the most of our huge collection of print and online resources.

Our Learning Zones are for social and activity-based study in an informal environment. We have three – at Camberwell College of Arts, Central Saint Martins and London College of Communication, open to all UAL students.

We will tell you more about the library facilities when you attend an introduction during your first term, with other sessions offered later in your course.

Remember, the library staff are there to help you so just ask if you have any questions or need more help.

Diversity

UAL believes that the diversity of its staff and student community is fundamental to creative thinking and innovation in the arts community. We are committed to removing barriers to progression and success, and promoting understanding and awareness of equality, diversity and inclusion for all.

The Equality and Diversity Officer for Students works in partnership with Arts Students' Union to support initiatives to promote this and also provides confidential advice and guidance to trans and non-binary students, student carers and parents and students from diverse faith backgrounds.

Language Development

If English is an additional language for you, we offer specialist one-to-one and online tutorials, classes and workshops to help you build your English skills further and understand the types of assignments you need to produce. We help you focus on the language of your subject in weekly course specific classes. This allows you time to discuss and practise speaking about ideas in a relaxed setting as well as concentrate on key reading texts. Your course team will introduce you to your Language Development tutor at the beginning of term.

There are also other more general classes, including speaking and pronunciation, essay writing, dissertation writing, report writing and how to talk about your work in a crit, where work is presented for feedback and discussion. These take place across all the colleges throughout the academic year and during the holidays.

We also offer English language assessments to students progressing within UAL.

Academic Support

Academic Support is provided to help you develop approaches to learning and skills that will be useful in your student life and as a future professional. Academic Support tutors are based in colleges and work closely with course teams and Language Development, Library and other Student Support staff. Academic Support tutors will be introduced to you during inductions.

Through Academic Support, you can explore and improve your learning and study practices in areas such as critical thinking, reading, writing, research, making presentations and working as a team. You'll learn to use libraries, archives, digital tools and environments skillfully, and develop an understanding of university expectations as well as your own and other points of view.

Staying safe

London is generally a safe city to live in, but like any new place, you should take time to learn how to look after yourself and your belongings. Here are some top tips:

1. Keep your purse or wallet close to your body and don't carry too much cash
2. Keep all valuables out of sight when out and about, especially when in crowded places
3. Carry your laptop in a rucksack rather than a laptop bag so it's not easily seen
4. Register your pocket electronics (phone, iPad, iPod) for free on immobilise.com so if they get stolen and police have to search for them, they can check the serial number and track you as the owner
5. Plan your route before you leave; the Transport for London website tfl.gov.uk is a good place to start
6. Avoid walking alone at night; keep to well-lit main roads or take a taxi for longer distances; only use registered taxis or minicabs
7. Report any incidents, suspicious activity or stolen belongings to the police; dial 101 for your nearest police service or 999 in an emergency
8. If you need urgent medical advice call 111 to speak to the NHS free helpline service (open 24/7) who will advise you on what to do next and help you find medical support near you. If you have a serious injury, go to an Accident and Emergency (A&E) department at your nearest hospital.
9. And don't forget to keep in touch with your family too so they know you're doing ok!

ONE OF THE BEST THINGS ABOUT UAL IS ITS LOCATION. YOU CAN TRAVEL EASILY IN LONDON TO VISIT LOTS OF MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES.

Hello and welcome from Arts Students' Union

Being part of Arts Students' Union (Arts SU) means you can join our societies and sports teams, meet new people and make your time at UAL memorable by running your own events. You can also get discounts on London living, pick up hands-on industry experience, attend professional development workshops and access platforms to sell your work. We can support you to run campaigns that create change within your course, your college, the wider university and nationally.

Arts SU is a student-run organisation, meaning we are led by you; providing you with a democratic platform, which makes us totally independent from and different to the university.

By enrolling at UAL, you're automatically a member of our Union (you lucky thing) and it's our job to represent and defend your interests, ensuring your student experience is as enjoyable as possible. We run a bar and two not-for-profit cafés, offer free academic, housing and employment advice and facilitate a fantastic fitness programme. We also throw some pretty awesome parties and events!

Every year you elect UAL students to lead Arts SU to defend your rights and influence the university to change things for the better like securing funding for mental health services and gaining 24 hour access to the CSM library. Your 2018-19 full-time student officers are Anita, Annie-Marie, Katayoun and Olivia. If you want to find out what we are doing, you can get lots of information on the Arts SU website, or you can visit us on the first floor of High Holborn, London. Your officers are here to represent you, so when you see us, say 'hi' – we're excited to get to know you!

Course Representatives

Course Reps are students you elect on your course to represent you. They are elected at the start of an academic year by their course group and attend training provided by us that will help them better understand their role.

Course Reps are key drivers of change within their courses, colleges and the wider university. They communicate with students to find out more about the issues they might be facing on their course and attend regular meetings and forums where they represent your needs to college staff. They also lobby and campaign on issues when they need to.

If you find there is something you want to change about your course, your current Course Rep can help make it happen – or you can run to be a Course Rep yourself!

 Visit arts-su.com/your-union/course-reps to find out more about Course Reps and how to get involved

Advice

The Advice Service at Arts SU offers free, impartial advice to all UAL students. Our service is confidential and completely independent of the university. We provide both academic and housing advice, as well as regular drop-in sessions at your college.

 Visit arts-su.com/advice to find out more

Be Creative

At Arts SU, we want to ensure you have every chance to make, exhibit and promote your work. To expand your creative practice further, we hold talks with recent graduates and organisations that are leaders in their field to provide you with the best industry advice. Some of the highlights are:

- Selling your work with Made in Arts London (MiAL), a platform that invests in current students' work and supports you to develop professionally, giving you the opportunity to sell and showcase your work
- Working with key partners including, but not limited to, the Royal Academy and the British Museum, giving you the opportunity to get involved in their 'Lates' programmes
- Showcasing and funding your work

Arts SU has four gallery spaces available, free for all UAL students to book and exhibit in, as well as an annual event called Xhibit (UAL's longest running open submission exhibition), exposing you to industry experts while showcasing the diversity of our courses.

 Visit arts-su.com/creative to find out more about the creative opportunities available to you

Sports

Sport and recreation isn't just about fitness at Arts SU – it also allows you to get to know hundreds of other like-minded students and become part of a wider UAL family. UAL Sport offers a wide range of competitive and non-competitive sporting activity, whether you're after football, volleyball, dance or equestrian.

As well as sporting activity, being a part of UAL Sport allows you to take part in weekly socials, fixtures, sports tours, sports awards and lots of other fun and exciting events. You make some of your best memories at UAL through getting involved in sport!

📌 Visit arts-su.com/sports-clubs to find out more about sports clubs

Arts Active

If you are interested in non-competitive and commitment free fitness, our Arts Active programme is for you! A range of non-competitive sport and wellbeing sessions are available, from yoga to tennis and tai chi, as well as one off events such as trampolining.

The Arts Active pass gives you access to all sessions across UAL so there will always be something for you to attend.

If you are living in halls, be sure to also get involved in our Halls Active Programme.

📌 Visit arts-su.com/arts-active to find out more about Arts Active

Societies

Your time at university shouldn't just be about your studies. Here at Arts SU, we provide you with lots of opportunities to explore different hobbies and interests, meet new people and, above all, enjoy your time at UAL.

Societies are a great way to find people with the same interests as you, have fun and socialise. Our societies vary from Life Drawing to Chess and Cultural Societies, with activities including exhibitions, cultural celebrations, workshops, panel talks, film screenings and much more. If you can't find what you're looking for, we can support you to start your own.
